[EN-US]Adware-Freeware-Anti-Spyware-Malware-Software-Anti-Virus-Protect-Online-Blogs-Keymaker [EN-US] [EN-US]Keymaker Description: Keymaker is an easy-to-use software that lets you create one-time-passwords that are long and easy to remember. These passwords can be used to log-on to various websites and for accessing various services online. You can also use the software to generate codes that can be entered as security codes on your websites. Keymaker is a password recovery tool that lets you recover your lost passwords. It can recover various kinds of passwords, such as Windows, FTP, email, ftp, MySQL, MySQL, MyODBC, ODBC and SQL passwords. It works by sniffing the communication between your computer and the websites that you have an account with. When you lost your password, you can select a time interval, amount of pages in the website, and the type of service that you want to recover the password for. The tool then collects the information from the website, such as URLs, IP addresses, HTTP headers, cookies, POST requests, file paths, Java Scripts and SQL Statements, which it then stores in a temporary file. The next time you try to access the website, the tool then fetches the collected data from the 2edc1e01e8
