A: you can use a black and white image as a mask and edit it. The present invention relates to a manufacturing method of a semiconductor memory device, which includes a reinforcing layer, and particularly to a method of a semiconductor memory device, which can reduce hole defect and reduce the number of manufacturing steps by forming a bit line and a plurality of nodes including a word line and a plurality of storage nodes which are easily damaged by external impact. In general, a semiconductor memory device can be classified as a volatile type memory device or a nonvolatile type memory device. The volatile memory device is often used as a main memory device in an apparatus using a computer, and data can be lost when power is turned off. The nonvolatile memory device has advantages in that a power supply for a memory device can be maintained in a low current state, the data can be stored for a long period of time without a power supply and can be electrically programmed and erased. Meanwhile, a typical example of the nonvolatile memory
